Advancing Nevada's Clean Energy Future

NV Energy recently filed two plans with the Public Utilities Commission of Nevada (PUCN) that fulfill the vision for Nevada's new sustainable energy economy. One piece of the plan, the Greenlink Nevada transmission initiative, will transform Nevada's clean energy landscape by allowing for the development of renewable energy zones throughout western and northern Nevada. This will improve system resiliency, increase electric reliability for all Nevadans and drive the creation of thousands of jobs and hundreds of millions of dollars in economic recovery from the COVID-19 pandemic. CLEAN Grants Awarded

The NV Energy Foundation has awarded its Clean Energy Access for Nevada (CLEAN) grant to four Nevada nonprofit organizations for programs that will advance workforce development and promote the benefits of clean energy in Nevada, especially in rural and historically underrepresented communities.

Congratulations to Envirolution, Faith Organizing Alliance, Las Vegas Indian Center and Make the Road Nevada, which will receive a combined $246,000 in funding. Visit nvenergy.com/news to learn more about how these organizations will use this funding to drive innovation and develop projects that advance clean energy.
